Birth–5 months • Weekly rhythm

Use these as recurring invitations beside responsive care and free play. Change days, repeat a favorite or skip an invitation when needs change. Infant entries are care-compatible adult preparation ideas, never scheduled lessons.

Day	Anchor invitation	Why offer it?
Monday	W001 A familiar care greeting	Make an everyday care transition understandable and reassuring.
Tuesday	W008 A quiet humming invitation	Experience sound and expression through a warm interaction.
Wednesday	W010 Noticing an ordinary outdoor sound	Experience local surroundings within safe comfortable care.
Thursday	W003 Watching a quiet useful action	Experience a familiar adult’s purposeful action within a warm relationship.
Friday	W005 A two-line care verse	Hear a predictable language pattern paired with responsive care.

Every day

Warm relationships; responsive care; comfortable voluntary movement; communication; safe outdoor access when suitable; choice and sufficient time.

Adapt for this group / access / safety / family connection

6–11 months • Weekly rhythm

Use these as recurring invitations beside responsive care and free play. Change days, repeat a favorite or skip an invitation when needs change. Infant entries are care-compatible adult preparation ideas, never scheduled lessons.

Day	Anchor invitation	Why offer it?
Monday	W011 Explore and return	Support exploration while connection remains available.
Tuesday	W018 Echo a sound idea	Express a sound and hear it acknowledged.
Wednesday	W020 A familiar outdoor pause	Notice the local world through repeated safe visits.
Thursday	W013 Folding nearby, noticing together	Share the rhythm of a real useful action.
Friday	W016 A repeated gesture verse	Enjoy a predictable language-and-gesture exchange.

Every day

Warm relationships; responsive care; comfortable voluntary movement; communication; safe outdoor access when suitable; choice and sufficient time.

Adapt for this group / access / safety / family connection

12–23 months • Weekly rhythm

Use these as recurring invitations beside responsive care and free play. Change days, repeat a favorite or skip an invitation when needs change. Infant entries are care-compatible adult preparation ideas, never scheduled lessons.

Day	Anchor invitation	Why offer it?
Monday	W021 A predictable arrival invitation	Feel secure during a transition.
Tuesday	W028 Large crayon movements	Explore marks through voluntary movement.
Wednesday	W030 Watching one familiar plant	Notice a living thing over repeated visits.
Thursday	W023 Wipe beside a familiar adult	Participate in useful room care.
Friday	W026 A very short real-life story	Share a meaningful event in simple language.

Every day

Warm relationships; responsive care; comfortable voluntary movement; communication; safe outdoor access when suitable; choice and sufficient time.

Adapt for this group / access / safety / family connection

24–35 months • Weekly rhythm

Use these as recurring invitations beside responsive care and free play. Change days, repeat a favorite or skip an invitation when needs change. Infant entries are care-compatible adult preparation ideas, never scheduled lessons.

Day	Anchor invitation	Why offer it?
Monday	W031 A small repeated welcome	Support a predictable but responsive start.
Tuesday	W038 Color across a big page	Make original expressive choices.
Wednesday	W040 A short repeated nature route	Notice local changes through familiarity.
Thursday	W034 Prepare the bread-day table	Participate in a real preparation routine.
Friday	W036 A tiny tabletop tale	Follow a short sequence through objects and language.

Every day

Warm relationships; responsive care; comfortable voluntary movement; communication; safe outdoor access when suitable; choice and sufficient time.

Adapt for this group / access / safety / family connection

3 years · 36–47 months • Weekly rhythm

Use these as recurring invitations beside responsive care and free play. Change days, repeat a favorite or skip an invitation when needs change. Infant entries are care-compatible adult preparation ideas, never scheduled lessons.

Day	Anchor invitation	Why offer it?
Monday	W041 Help the room begin and end	Participate in predictable useful routines with support.
Tuesday	W048 A first wet-on-wet color exploration	Explore how color moves without a copied picture.
Wednesday	W050 Care for one real plant	Link noticing with appropriate care.
Thursday	W043 Wash and fold a small cloth	Complete a purposeful care sequence with help.
Friday	W045 A repeated short nature tale	Build meaning and anticipation through oral storytelling.

Every day

Warm relationships; responsive care; comfortable voluntary movement; communication; safe outdoor access when suitable; choice and sufficient time.

Adapt for this group / access / safety / family connection

4 years · 48–59 months • Weekly rhythm

Use these as recurring invitations beside responsive care and free play. Change days, repeat a favorite or skip an invitation when needs change. Infant entries are care-compatible adult preparation ideas, never scheduled lessons.

Day	Anchor invitation	Why offer it?
Monday	W051 Choose a useful weekly helper role	Contribute to a familiar community rhythm without fixed social roles.
Tuesday	W058 A color experience revisited	Notice and express changes through repeated art experience.
Wednesday	W060 A local seasonal observation place	Notice real local change rather than a fixed seasonal script.
Thursday	W053 Bread-day kneading with adult safeguards	Join a useful food process through a reviewed manageable action.
Friday	W055 A tabletop story with child retelling	Represent story meaning through chosen language and action.

Every day

Warm relationships; responsive care; comfortable voluntary movement; communication; safe outdoor access when suitable; choice and sufficient time.

Adapt for this group / access / safety / family connection

5- and 6-year-olds · 60–83 months • Weekly rhythm

Use these as recurring invitations beside responsive care and free play. Change days, repeat a favorite or skip an invitation when needs change. Infant entries are care-compatible adult preparation ideas, never scheduled lessons.

Day	Anchor invitation	Why offer it?
Monday	W061 Plan a rhythm that includes everyone	Participate in useful shared planning while adults retain care responsibility.
Tuesday	W068 Create and revise an expressive work	Sustain an original expression across time.
Wednesday	W070 A real place to care for and describe	Connect observation, practical care and community responsibility.
Thursday	W063 Measure for a real making task	Use number, comparison and measurement for a real purpose.
Friday	W065 An original story becomes a child’s book	Communicate an authored story through an accessible form.

Every day

Warm relationships; responsive care; comfortable voluntary movement; communication; safe outdoor access when suitable; choice and sufficient time.

Adapt for this group / access / safety / family connection